CYO single-lever mixer in chrome

CYO as a single-lever mixer adds another alternative to the operating concept of the series. The basic shape of the circle is also the central design element here. It characterises both the spout and the lever element and leads to the perfect combination of design and ease of use.

	Individual combination options for surfaces and handle inserts	A wide selection of handle inserts in different surfaces and materials, for example with structures or natural stone, open up a great deal of design freedom. The handle inserts can be combined individually and are easy to replace.
